THE City Directory contains upward 10,000 names, including married ladies, deducting the usual 10 per cent. for firm names there remains 9000; multiplying these figures by  $2\frac{1}{2}$  (the usual directory method of calculating populations) the result shows the population of Logansport and suburbs to be 22,500, which is an increase of about 2000 over canvass made for last directory.

PREFACE.

THE City Directory has become a necessary convenience of our civilization. Large communities constrict and contract neighborhoods; vicinity becomes vacancy in the relations of the inhabitants to each other. The Directory populates the vacancies, locates persons and unites personality and residence.

Sixty years ago everybody in Logansport knew every inhabitant and his status and affairs. Visits, social or otherwise, were made easy as to localities by the universal familiarity of each and all with the situation of the place to be visited, and the metes and cross-cuts leading to it, many of which were cow-paths through the dog-fennel and smartweed, winding around stumps and log-heaps, or amid the perils of the succession of deep holes in embryo streets threatening life and limb. On a dark, wet or stormy night these difficulties and dangers, mitigated by the light of a tallow-dip, enclosed in a perforated tin lantern, were cheerfully encountered and but little regarded. They were really of little consequence compared with the inconvenience we would now suffer, despite the advantages of pavements and floods of electric light, without the aid of the Directory to guide and direct our steps. Thus the progress of civilization constantly develops new wants and new supplies thereof.

The first Directory was published in this city about thirty years ago. It was a thin, small book, containing a few hundreds of names with very imperfect addresses connected therewith, and little else of value within its covers. At long intervals other and improving similar volumes have followed this pioneer effort. A little over two years ago the undersigned published a Directory which was almost universally commended as the best and most decidedly complete, reliable and valuable of the entire series. The fact that even this most excellent and satisfactory work has become imperfect by the changes time has wrought in the main elements of its construction, is proof conclusive of the increasing value of the Directory in the progress of our business and social advancement. A new Directory every year will soon be a recognized and approved necessity in our thriving city. This fact, with the twelve thousand names presented in this volume, are large factors in the indisputable evidence that Logansport is growing and waxing greater every day in all the features of a sound, healthy and reliable progress and prosperity.

We recognize the fact that this volume must stand for its approval or criticism upon its merits, but, having taken every available pains and precaution in its preparation, we do not fear the ordeal. We have tried to "do the best we could," and is the best ultimate of all human effort.

To the friends and patrons who have aided and supported us in this and former similar efforts, we tender our heartfelt thanks. It is on their part largely a contribution for a general convenience and benefit which very many share with them, without money and without price. We cheerfully join our patrons in this good work to the whole extent of our reasonable share in it, and shall be more than content if this volume, without regard to its cost to us, comes up to the high standard of our expectations, and receives the public approval we hope it will receive.

HOW THE STREET NUMBERS RUN.

FIRST STREET is the basis of numbering from west to east between the rivers, beginning with 100. Each successive square begins with the next even hundred above the preceding one.

HIGH STREET is the basis of numbering from north to south between the rivers, beginning with 100. Each successive square begins with the next even hundred above the preceding one.

EEL RIVER is the basis of numbering from south to north on the Northside.

NORTH SIXTH, or the continuation of Sixth is the basis of numbering from east to west, as far as Brown, from the Northside to the Westside

BROWN STREET is the basis of numbering farther west on the Westside, each successive square beginning with an even hundred above the preceding one

BROADWAY, MARKET AND MELBORNE AVE, on the Westside, begin with 1 at Eel River running west.

FRONT, OR HAINES is the basis of numbering from south to north on the Westside, until Brown is reached, when the numbers begin at the Wabash River,

THE WABASH RIVER is the basis of numbering from north to south on the Southside.

Westside—Comprises all that territory lying north of the Eel and Wabash rivers, and west of Sycamore street.

Northside—Comprises all that territory lying north of Eel river, and east of Sycamore street.

Southside—Comprises all that territory lying south of the north bank of the Wabash river.

Don't Lead Your Directory.

CITY DIRECTORY.

Don't Lend Your Directory.

Did you ever lend your umbrella? If so, did you ever get it back? A borrower, whether of your umbrella or directory, is a nuisance, and in very few instances are the goods returned. The man that borrows your directory told the canvasser that "he had no use for a city directory" but your book is hardly in your house before he is in to borrow it. Don't lend your directory; let others buy as you have done.

Govt's Last Year

Diary

The first of the year was a very busy one. I was out of the house for most of the day. I had to go to the office and then to the bank. I also had to go to the post office. I was very tired when I got home. I had to go to bed early. I was very happy to see my children. They were very happy to see me. I was very happy to see my wife. She was very happy to see me. I was very happy to see my friends. They were very happy to see me. I was very happy to see my family. They were very happy to see me. I was very happy to see my country. It was very beautiful. I was very happy to see my life. It was very good. I was very happy to see my future. It was very bright. I was very happy to see my world. It was very wonderful. I was very happy to see my universe. It was very amazing. I was very happy to see my existence. It was very precious. I was very happy to see my soul. It was very pure. I was very happy to see my heart. It was very true. I was very happy to see my mind. It was very clear. I was very happy to see my spirit. It was very strong. I was very happy to see my love. It was very deep. I was very happy to see my faith. It was very firm. I was very happy to see my hope. It was very bright. I was very happy to see my joy. It was very pure. I was very happy to see my peace. It was very calm. I was very happy to see my happiness. It was very true. I was very happy to see my life. It was very good. I was very happy to see my future. It was very bright. I was very happy to see my world. It was very wonderful. I was very happy to see my universe. It was very amazing. I was very happy to see my existence. It was very precious. I was very happy to see my soul. It was very pure. I was very happy to see my heart. It was very true. I was very happy to see my mind. It was very clear. I was very happy to see my spirit. It was very strong. I was very happy to see my love. It was very deep. I was very happy to see my faith. It was very firm. I was very happy to see my hope. It was very bright. I was very happy to see my joy. It was very pure. I was very happy to see my peace. It was very calm. I was very happy to see my happiness. It was very true.

DON'T LEND YOUR DIRECTORY.

Did you ever lend your umbrella? If so, did you ever get it back? A borrower, whether of your umbrella or directory, is a nuisance, and in very few instances are the goods returned. The man that borrows your directory told the canvasser that "he had no use for a city directory," but your book is hardly in your house before he is in to borrow it. Don't lend your directory; let others buy as you have done.
